2019 Website Program Description

Join TMI's team of skilled trainers for this experiential program of self-transformation! Discover how to remove any false illusions you may believe about yourself to discover who you truly are. These narratives are made up of reflections, the things others have said to us and the events we've experienced. These are but false reflections.

When we become fully present and coherent in heart and mind, we can perceive for ourselves our true nature and our unlimited potential. Event Horizon is a SAM program, which means that the exercises are supported by TMI's latest audio technology,  Spatial Angle Modulation™ (SAM).

---

What is Spatial Angle Modulation (SAM)?

Founded on a scientific understanding of the neurological basis for personal experiences such as intuition, inspiration, revelation, and transcendence, SAM technology provides a means of inducing altered states of consciousness ranging from deep relaxation to expanded perceptual abilities and other "extraordinary" states. Unlike binaural beats, SAM uses a single frequency tone modulation to create a tremolo effect influencing regional brain activity and changes in states of consciousness. Previous SAM program participants report feeling a heightened sense of alertness during expanded states as compared to exercises using Hemi-Sync.

Cross the illusion boundaries that are holding you back.

Crossing these boundaries, which we refer to as the Event Horizon, is a personal journey involving constructive practices that illuminate our path to freedom. As we live and operate day to day within physical human bodies that were designed for survival hundreds of thousands of years ago, we use tremendous effort and energy to maintain balance. Our bodies hold that stress and we call it "normal." All too often fear and stress are the primary aspects of our behavior and motivation.

I AM READY TO EXPLORE!

Change your stories from negative avoidance to positive expression.

We all understand this concept but few ever realize its full potential. The Event Horizon program will provide you with innovative knowledge and an understanding of a positive way of being. If you have the curiosity and courage to make this journey, you will discover, practice and experience this new perspective. Living the positive is what we desire. Surviving the negative is what creates the Event Horizon that we must transcend.

- Learn how to cultivate your true nature and dismiss the false narratives.
- Experience guided mindful awareness exercises where choice in action replaces habits of reaction.
- Attain a greater self-awareness and self-understanding by turning the mind inwards towards inner-self development.
- Return home with effective tools for maintaining a balanced awareness for resilience in handling daily stressors.

Our reality does not “happen to us,” it is initiated by us as we take the authority and responsibility of our true and present being. For perhaps the first time in your life you can find yourself in a full and complete In-the-Body experience. This realization is a homecoming to the mindful awareness, freedom, and joy that is the attracting singularity of positive being as we transcend our Event Horizon.

Come and stand on the place between what you thought you were and who you truly are.
Come and discover your true nature.

I AM READY TO EXPLORE!

What Event Horizon participants are saying.

"For anyone interested in ramping up their meditation practice, Event Horizon is a must! These exercises combine clear meditation instructions and plenty of open space, supported by SAM signals to assist Gamma in one's brainwaves." - Becky C.

"Event Horizon facilitates spiritual and physical oneness and allows the body to quietly come along on this adventure that is free from beliefs and dogma to allow you to discover the real you!" - Jack T.
